Replace claim 14 with the following:

14. (Currently Amended) A computer-readable non transitory medium having a program instructing a computer to a network, including at least a DNS (Domain Name System) server, to execute an information detection operation for detecting an IP (Internet Protocol) address, comprising the steps of:

detecting at least one search IP address from IP addresses which are a predetermined number of IP addresses selected as a unit from possible IP addresses on the network, by sending an ARP (Address Resolution Protocol) request to the IP addresses and receiving an ARP response to the ARP request;

sending a DNS query message to the at least one search IP address and receiving response message;

identifying a DNS response message from the response message and detecting an IP address of a source DNS server from the DNS response message; sending an ICMP echo request message to the at least one search IP address and receiving its ICMP response message; and detecting an IP address of a source router from the ICMP response message, wherein the ICMP response message is either an ICMP redirect request message or an ICMP time exceed message.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record to Choi fails to disclose as a whole a search IP address detector for detecting at least one search IP address from IP addresses which are selected from a predetermined number of IP addresses as a unit from a predetermined number of IP addresses selected as a unit from possible IP addresses on the network, by sending an ARP (Address Resolution Protocol) request to the IP addresses and receiving an ARP response to the ARP request; a DNS message transceiver for sending a DNS query_ message to the at least one search IP address and receiving its response message; a DNS server detector for identifying a DNS response message from the response message and detecting an IP address of a source DNS server from the DNS response message; an ICMP message transceiver for sending an ICMP echo request message to the at least one search IP address and receiving its ICMP response message; and a router detector for detecting an IP address of a source router from the ICMP response message, wherein the ICMP response message is either an ICMP redirect request message or an ICMP time exceed message.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
